WALKS ABOUT TOWN.

It is my opinion that the cross town company will have trouble this year running their cars on account of the water collecting on the tracks and leaving for there are many places along the street where the track is considerably lower than the surface of the road.

There is a great improvement going on at the D. & W. depot. If the company will erect a new station it would please the residents of the town and go far toward drawing more people to Bloomfield, thereby putting more money in their pockets.

Central Street is only one block in length but is built up on both sides by very comfortable houses occupied by people in moderate circumstances who pay a good share of the taxes and keep their surroundings in good order. The street until the summer was in a fairly passable condition, but the powers that be thought to improve upon it, and put men at work graveling some two months ago. After finishing that task they dumped some loose sand and gravel in the centre of the road, and now after a rain, it is an old-fashioned mud-hole with the prospect of being worse if possible this winter.

Residents of Bloomfield when they attend the theatre need not go to New York and arrive home at 1 A. M.

unless they play and good companies can be seen at Music Hall, Orange, twice or three times a week, and brother

Myers, who is nicely warmed up within twenty feet of Music Hall waiting for passengers on the train over until the performance is over, arriving in Bloomfield about 11:30.

Today a new paper bidding for the support of the residents along the line of the G. L. & N. Y. R. R. including the Bloomfield branch, called the Morris and Bates News. It presents a fine appearance and is typographically very good and neat. It will chronicle all

San. Small's Lecture.

Rev. Samuel Small, the Georgia Evangelist, will give his noted lecture "From Bar-room to Pulpit," in Music Hall,

Orange, Saturday evening, December 8th.

Admission 50 cents, reserved seats, 75 cents. Tickets to be had at Parson's drug store, or of any of the ladies of the Union, and the Young Ladies' Auxiliary of the W. C. T. U., and at the door.

The lecture is the story of his rescue as related by himself. It is full of eloquence, pathos and soul-stirring details.

Mr. Small is thirty-five years of age and has already made a National reputation. As a newspaper man he has had an unusual training and experience. His "Old Si Papers" are widely known. He is a man thoroughly in earnest and his life is true to his profession.

The Chicago Evening News speaks of him: "The speaker was the gifted and brilliant young Georgian, Sam Small, as he is familiarly called by the people and press and who has created within the past seven months a fame as an evangelist and a temperance advocate which has swept over this country in a degree unparalleled by that of any other man no older than he in the kingdom and service of the Divine Master. In the religious world he is the phenomenon of the present day, and bids fair to become worthy of a place alongside of Spurgeon, Talmage and other great, grand men, who have been accorded the foremost places among the hosts of the Lord for their piety, zeal, learning and eloquence."

The Cincinnati Gazette in its report of the lecture says: "One of the most impressive and pathetic sermons on intemperance and its awful effects on mankind, ever delivered in this city, and it was the personal experience of a man whose culture, knowledge and experience entitles him to the deepest consideration."

The lecture was repeated five times in Boston by special request, each time drawing crowded houses.

The lecture is the first of a series of lectures and entertainments to be given under the auspices of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union of Orange, for the purpose of raising funds for the support of the work and for the new building.
